

Long ago, in a far away kingdom, there lived a girl named Cinderella. She was poor and her evil step sisters would torment her everyday. One night, big news came to town that the king and queen were hosting a ball for their prince who's looking for his bride!

When Cinderella's step mom and sisters probihibitted her from attending the ball, her fairy God mother came to her and casted a temporary spell to ensure her step family wouldn't recognize her at the ball. However, the spell would only last until midnight...

will she make it on time by midnight?
